LETTERS PRODUCED IN TRIAL

Mme. Caillaux Sobers During Testimony Baring Past
of Her Husband

PARIS, July 23.—Mme. Berthe Guéydan, Joseph Caillaux's first wife, a slender woman with black eyes and wasted cheeks, went today into the court room, faced her former husband, the former premier of France, and put upon the rack the woman who had been his first love—Mme. Henri Caillaux, now central for the murder of Gaston Calmette.

Mme. Guéydan was to tell of her part in the publication in the Figaro of the now celebrated "Jhy Joly" letter, but she declared she knew nothing about it and affirmed that she had told Calmette nothing.

The emotional climax of the trial was reached when other private letters handed over by Mme. Guéydan to Ferdinand Labori, counsel for Mme. Caillaux. Those who packed the court room witnessed one of the most dramatic incidents in the annals of French courts.

Letters on the Scene

Here is the packet of letters I took at Mamers," said Mme. Gueydan, giving them to an attendant, who passed them to M. Lahori. "We will consider with Maitre Chenu what shall be done," said M. Lahori, "but whatever we decide, the jury may rest assured that they will be apprised of their contents as is their right and duty to expect."

"Among them," added Mme. Gueydan, "are the two letters referred to as private letters."

Mme. Gueydan then left the box. Her remarkable personality had completely dominated the whole procedure. For three hours she spoke and her voice gained strength, carrying to the remotest corner of the room. She never then held her own against the great advocates, Lahori and Chenu and the judge gave up trying to direct her deposition.

In that time she laid bare many of the secrets of her life with Dr. Callahan. She told of his liaison and of his throwing himself at her knees to ask for pardon. She described her methods of defense of what she termed the macho-masculine maneuvers of an unfaithful husband. She testified that he even threatened her life.

Then she left him, hoping he would follow her; but he did not, and she added, with a flash of her eyes and tightening of her lips: "You know why."

She gained the sympathy of those

HEAT WAVE MAKES NEW RECORDS IN U. S.

Prostrations and Suffering Reported in Many Sections

The maximum temperature in Colorado Springs yesterday was 76.

CHICAGO, July 23.—A wave of intense heat that set new records for the year in some places, spread over the United States today.

In Chicago the mercury climbed to 100 and it was the hottest day of the year here.

In St. Louis street kiosks registered 110 degrees and many prostrations many prostrations. Guthrie, Okla., for the sixth consecutive day, showed the mercury reaching 102 degrees.

Fort Scott and Great Bend, Kan., reported maximums of 108. Gridley, Kan., recorded 102 with four prostrations. At Atchison, the mercury reached 100 and several prostrations occurred.

Kansas City had the third hottest day of the season with a temperature of 97. Only one prostration was reported.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Wind that attained a velocity of 85 miles an hour, the highest since 1892, swept down upon the city late today, bringing with it the most severe local rain storm in years. The rainfall was brief but gave relief from the heat. The mercury earlier had reached 90 degrees.

The wind blew down signs, smashed plate glass windows and did other damage in the city. At Sandy Hook a small fishing sloop went ashore during the squall.

In Newark, N. J., a man was crushed to death when a fence behind which he took refuge was blown over on him. The storm swept over New York from west to east, causing damage in a path not more than 200 yards wide.

Discrimination Against Class Must Go, President Writes Jones; 'Fight Does Not Embarrass Me'

appropriate to be inserted in that letter. I confess that the opportunity to be associated with you in a minor way in the actual creative work of government took strong hold upon my imagination. It served to overbear doubts of the wisdom of my undertaking the task presented growing mainly out of considerations of health. I doubt whether I could have stood the work long, but I was prepared to devote the last ounce of strength there was in me to the work which your proposal seemed to bring me.

Now that the vision is passed my preponderant feeling is that of profound relief. I had come to feel that I was in some way the occasion in getting you into difficulties. I am sure that my withdrawal is wise.

I hardly dare trust myself to say how deeply I prize the confidence you have shown in me and your endeavors to carry the matter through. It will always be a matter of real and deep pride to me.

With light apparently ahead in Mexico and with achievements already accomplished which even the most sanguine could not have anticipated a year and a half ago, you can afford to face minor irritations with entire equanimity. If from now on you are to be beset with difficulties, it is difficult for me to say in my opinion, reply with entire confidence on the fact that your past achievements will rank among the highest achievements of the holders of your great office.

Wilson's Letter

President Wilson's letter to Mr. Jones reads:

"My Dear Friend—Your letter of July 20 comes to me. I think, more kinds of regret than any other letter I ever received. Before, first of all, that my country should lose the invaluable services of such a man as I, and all fair-minded men who know you at all, know you to be. I regret that I should have brought upon you so unpleasant an experience in which you were treated with gross and manifest injustice; regret that such circumstances should seem to have more for the moment, to high office under the great government of the United States, representing a generous, fair and honorable people; regret that the organization of a great banking system should be so embarrassed and obstructed.

Wilson Not Embarrassed

"You need not think that anything in the present circumstances has embarrassed me in the least. It causes me not the slightest embarrassment. I have no moment of hesitation or flagging enthusiasm in standing by men whom I honor and believe in. It gives me nothing but pleasure and exhilaration to stand by them at any time and to any extent. You may leave my feelings (my feelings for my country) out of the question, which seems to me of greater concern and consequence, is that the choice of members of the federal reserve board of the new banking system should have been an occasion of partisan alignment and action. The adverse report on your nomination, to which you justly refer as unfair and untrue, is of course, not to be charged to the feeling or action of the senate of the United States or to anything for which that great body as a whole can be held responsible. The report is signed only by the minority members of the committee, and by two members of the majority who have actually acted with them. There is no reason to believe that either in its temper or in its conclusions that report represents the attitude of the senate itself. I wish most heartily that the inauguration of the new national banking system, a system conceived and carried with an element of partisanship in its object or provision, might have been free from this unfortunate and ominous incident.

"I believe that the judgment and desire of the whole country cry out for a new temper in affairs. The time has come when discriminations against particular classes or men should be absolutely laid aside and discarded as unworthy of the councils of a great people. The effort for genuine social justice, for peace, the peace which is founded on common understanding and for prosperity, the prosperity of cooperation and mutual trust and confidence should be a united effort without partisan prejudice or class antagonism. It is only of such just and noble elements that the welfare of a great country can be composed. We have breathed already too long the air of suspicion and distrust. The progress of reform is not retarded by generosity and fairness.

"Your action in requesting that your name be withdrawn displays your personal interest, and sincerely as I regret it, I cannot but honor you for the action you have taken. I have no right to ask much less to urge, that you continue to allow yourself to be made the foot-ball of the sort of contest which has sprung up over this nomination. It is a matter of genuine sorrow to me that a man like you should be excluded from the public service upon great occasion. But neither of us is responsible for these extraordinary circumstances. We must both accept them. I cannot ask you to undergo more than you have undergone. I can only hope that better, cooler, wiser counsels may presently prevail.

"Moreover, a great program of constructive and constructive legislation is upon the eve of completion, and I am sure that you would not wish, as I do not wish, anything of a personal character to stand, even temporarily, in its way to delay or in any respect divert it. It is already clear that the country comprehends and will itself redress the injustice which has been done to you.

"With warmest regards,
Cordially and faithfully,
WOODROW WILSON.

Murdered by Friend, Who Commits Suicide

SALT LAKE CITY, July 23.—A special dispatch to the Tribune from Pocatello, Ida., says that D. J. Malone, master mechanic of the Oregon Short Line, was murdered in the railroad shops there this afternoon by Frank Madden, foreman of the tin shop. After shooting Malone, who had been his intimate friend for 25 years, Madden turned the revolver on himself, blowing off the top of his head. He fell over the body of his comrade. Both men were dead before nearby workmen reached their sides.

ELOPER KILLED IN HIS FATHER-IN-LAW'S OFFICE

HAVERSTRAW, N. Y., July 23.—Eugene Newman, a 18-year-old youth who last Saturday eloped with Anna Cleary, daughter of William C. Cleary, town clerk of Haverstraw and prominent in Rockland county Democratic politics, was shot and killed today in Cleary's office here. Cleary and his son-in-law were in the office alone. Cleary walked to the office of a local newspaper and there surrendered himself to the justice of the peace, who committed him to jail on a charge of murder.

FRANZ LEHAR

Wins slender suit verdict from Popeye, the Roumanian composer, who charged that he was using his compositions for his operetta, "Endlich Alton." The court considered that Lehár had been basely slandered and said he was a man of whom Austria was proud.

While local agents of Carranza have said he was disinclined to grant amnesty, the speech today of the Constitutionalist chief at Victoria, Mexico, and other reliable advices show that he will declare an amnesty, though the Constitutionalist government will reserve the right to punish those who were directly responsible for the assassination of Madero and Suarez. Most of those implicated, however, have left Mexico City.

Secretary Bryan expressed the highest confidence that there would be no difficulty in the way of an agreement between General Carranza and President Wilson. The situation is considered brighter than it has for months, but there are two other factors in the problem—Villa and Zapata—causing considerable anxiety and uneasiness.

Wilson Fears for Villa

President Wilson today said, however, he was sure Villa would not cause any trouble. Secretary Bryan made public dispatches from George C. Carothers, special representative of the state department with Villa, saying the fighting general would not break with Carranza, but nevertheless the general apprehension here was indicated by the number of inquiries about Villa which poured in at the state department.

Mexicans here who do not take an optimistic view of Villa's position, and who have been kept advised of his antipathy toward Carranza, say the breach has been but temporarily healed. They say Villa will not cause an open rupture at this time, but will sit quietly in northern Mexico with his men, and when Carranza reaches Mexico City and a conference of generals is called, Villa will make vigorous demands for a share in the government or promotions for his friends. Villa's potential strength will be his position in northern Mexico, for those who profess to be informed say he will not go south himself, but will allow envoys to argue his case for him in the Mexican capital.

As to Zapata, many disquieting reports are reaching Washington diplomats. One of the South American ministers had a brief telegram from his consul general in Mexico City saying merely:

"The situation here looks very dark. It was presumed that this referred to the uneasiness of the people as to whether the Constitutionlists would enter Mexico City peacefully or take it arbitrarily without previous agreement. The Zapatistas are reported to be active and likely to take advantage of the unsettled situation at Mexico City to force an entry there before the Constitutionalist troops arrive.

"The message certainly lifted a load from a great many Democrats. It was a great relief to some who already knew how they were going to vote and a great relief also to some who were still uncertain. I am sure it is a good thing for Democracy."

The report of the minority Democrats on the banking and currency committee held that alleged misdeeds of the harvester company had been committed before Mr. Jones became a director and there was nothing in the record of any of the directors' meetings attended by Mr. Jones to show a violation of any law, state or federal. "Unless it be the mere fact that the corporation continued to exist and do business."

President Wilson is said to have been determined to press Mr. Jones' nomination until the senate had concluded that the anti-trust program might be endangered if the fight in the senate was continued. He gave up his usual afternoon game of golf and worked on the letter to Mr. Jones, his intimate friend and personal choice for governor of the reserve board. Speculation over whom Mr. Wilson will choose as Mr. Jones' successor began immediately after the nomination was withdrawn. The names of Omer F. Henshey of Baltimore and L. M. Penton, the choice of Senator Lewis of Chicago, were alleged to be under consideration. It was thought that Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Hamilton would now be made governor of the board. The president has been assured that the nomination of Paul M. Warburg can be confirmed in the senate.

Bandits Hold Up S. P. Train; Escape With Several Thousand

LOS ANGELES, July 23. Southern Pacific train No. 22, Coast line, is reported to have been held up and the passengers robbed of several thousand dollars late tonight near Chatsworth station, north of Burbank, by two bandits. The sheriff has sent a posse to the scene.

It is reported that $2,000 in currency was taken from one passenger.

FEDERAL DEMAND FOR AMNESTY TO BE ISSUED TODAY

PERFECT SHOES FOR UNCLE SAM'S TROOPS

Experts Find Effect of Foot-gear for Marchers; 240 Makers Enter Contest

WASHINGTON, July 23.—A nationwide shoemaking contest, just brought to a close by the awarding of two army contracts to the winners, produced 240 pairs of the most perfect samples of military footgear ever manufactured, according to the board of army experts who passed upon them. "Next to the quality of the gun he carries," said one of these army experts, "more depends upon the condition of the shoe he wears than upon any other factor that goes toward the making of an effective soldier."

As a result of this testing, the United States army authorities have awarded a shoe which they say makes the American fighting man the best shod soldier in the world.

It took over a year of continual and careful experiment before satisfactory results were reached. Countless X-ray photographs were made; the position of the bones of the feet were noted and the anatomy before, during and after marches were studied and compared. All this time different models were being made and theories were worked out. Finally the type of shoe was evolved with its straight line on the big-toe side, its spine in step and a chance for the toes to lie as freely and naturally as in a moccasin.

When the theory of scientifically covering the foot had been established to the satisfaction of the army experts, various manufacturers placed their plants at the army's disposal in the hope they would be awarded the valuable contracts to supply the 6,000 pairs worn out in a year's marching for Uncle Sam.

But the quartermaster's corps did not limit itself to a single firm. They worked out a system of having each firm submit a sample of what it could do. Two pairs of shoes were offered by each bidder, showing the manufacturer's ability to meet specifications. The 240 pairs of shoes were the result, and out of these being selected the standard for the army's future footgear.

BRIDEGROOMS AS BRIDES

Edward Weston, author of "The Love-Love" of Moroccan life is illustrated by the many curious customs and superstitions which prevail in that country. In one, after a couple have been betrothed, five negroes, whose business it is to visit women on festive occasions, dress up the young man as a bride with garlands which they have brought with them. He is then seated on cushions placed on a mattress opposite the door, and sits there with his eyes closed as if he were a bride.

In some country places in Morocco the bride on her part imitates the appearance of a man by wearing a turban and having her hair cut off. She is then dressed in a man's suit and is led to the altar by a man.
